ATLANTA, JUNE 26, 1873.

From Yesterday's Evening Edition.

Summary of State News.

COLUMBUS.

Thirteen persons were baptized on last Sabbath at the Brownsville Baptist church, of which the Rev. Mr. Whipple is pastor. A most interesting revival is in progress. This morning the Columbusites have a big picnic at Fort Mitchell. The proceeds will be expended in the purchase of brass instruments for a band about to be organized. A big blow is anticipated.—Enquirer.

MACON.

The mortal remains of two calves claimed the attention of the health officer Monday morning. The immortal remains were not disturbed.——The vigorous action of the County Court has cleared Macon of vagrants. They have nothing behind them but bad reputations and joy at their absence.——A Macon man had been for some time sorely bedeviled by a dog. Every night when this upright citizen returned home, which he always did at becoming hours, he invariably stumbled over this villainous brute, just so stretched out as to cover the whole sidewalk. Experiments with brick-bats were unsatisfactory, for it always happened that the last end of the dog would disappear over a neighboring fence about four feet ahead or the front end of the brickbat. Something else had to be done, and this gentleman has done it. Finding the dog in his old position the other night, he crept up to within the proper distance and swinging a number ten brogan around he let fly at the head of his tormentor with all the strength of a just wrath and a mighty effort. The dog didn't kick worth a cent, but the curbstone did. The gentleman was taken home on a shutter, and expects to be able to use his left leg some time during the fall. The new curbstone will cost the city thirty dollars.—Telegraph and Messenger.

AUGUSTA.

Weather yesterday hotter than ever.——Monday afternoon about two o'clock, while a small darkey was standing on Broad street near Campbell, a pistol, which it was afterwards discovered belonged to his father, dropped from his pocket and was discharged by the fall. The bullet went one way and the nigger went another. He was still going at last accounts.——The summer examinations are at present progressing at two of the principal institutions, Richmond Academy and Houghton Institute. The exercises will be continued through the week until Saturday. Crowds are attending, and much interest manifested.——Mr. Frank Steiner died at his father's residence in this city last Sunday night. He was aged about 31 years. Mr. Steiner had been suffering for a number of years, and for some time past had been confined to his bed. He was a gallant soldier and officer in the Confederate army, and the news of his death will be received with profound regret by a host of his friends in this city and elsewhere.——A difficulty occurred on Saturday at Beach Island, South Carolina, in which Elbert Harden was killed by John Harden, his cousin.—Chronicle and Sentinel.

SAVANNAH.

The champion woman beater of Savannah is a negro named Abram Stephens, and he resides in the classic precincts of Frogtown. On Monday he took the starch out of one Hannah Smith's dress with a chair rocker; besides doubling up another damsel by striking her with a bottle. The gentleman now languishes in jail.——Moonlight picnics, and a big Masonic excursion on yesterday, are making the weary hours travel.——A thoughtless Savannah citizen advertised for a clerk, and now has to employ a couple of policemen to keep the applicants off.——A Savannah nigger's hair twists so tight that he can't shut his eyes, and his anxious friends are now trying to undo the kinks with a cork-screw.—News.

ROME.

As the day train was coming down yesterday from Kingston, when opposite the Dr. Ayer place, some ten miles from Rome, the baggage car and passenger coach ran off the track, and the former turned over. Mr. J. L. Todd, the conductor, had his left arm broken above the elbow, Mrs. J. Y. Alamon, of Clayton county, had her left hand injured. Although there were quite a number of passengers, no others were hurt.—Courier.

BRUNSWICK.

The recent invigorating rains have caused vegetation to grow so rapidly that a Brunswick farmer can hear the corn in his patch popping at night like the discharge of firearms.——Musquitoes are sharpening their bills for the summer season, and will visit us en masse soon.——The erection of two fine churches, the shelling of Newcastle street, and other improvements under way and soon to be commenced indicate that we are moving on.——Brunswick darkies occasionally steal lumber.—Appeal.

LUMPKIN.

Mrs. Georgia Chimney, daughter of the late Richard Hobbs, died at the residence of her mother in this county on Saturday morning last. She leaves a husband and two little children to mourn her loss.——We understand from those who have been engaged in threshing out wheat during the past week that the yield is very fine. Fresh flour from home-made wheat and new honey is what the thrifty farmer is living on just now.——It cost a Lumpkin negro just $12 50 to get drunk and gallop around the public square last Saturday. The Town Council are discussing the propriety of building an opera house with the money.—Telegraph.

An Incident of the Cholera.

[From Elizabethtown (Ky.) News.]

The following extract from a letter received by one of our citizens from his son, a sleeping-car conductor on the Memphis and Little Rock Railroad, may be of interest to some of the readers of the News. A lesson not to be forgotten should any of them ever happen in the fix of the conductor:

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., June 8, 1873.

* * I am well and have not caught the cholera, as yet, although there is a great deal of it here and at Memphis. * * I carry a bottle of medicine to cure it. I have had one case on my car. It was a lady, and I acted as doctor, and believe will always be remembered by her, and I am sure I will not forget my first attempt at doctoring. The directions on the bottle are "give fifteen to forty drops to a wine-glass of water every twenty minutes, and rub well the liniment on the stomach and bowels." Here comes the hard part—who was to rub her? I had but three lady passengers, and they were scared to death, and her husband was so grieved and frightened as to be almost frantic. Some one had to do it, so I shed my coat and cap and began to undo her clothing. My goodness, what work it was. I did not know where to commence, but at last got her dress unfastened, and here came the killing corset. I did not know how to open it, so I took out my knife and cut the cords, and in my hurry cut with it some other under garment. What it was I don't know—but I saw flesh. But to touch it; it had to be done. Just at this time the train conductor came and informed me a negro had the cholera in one of the other cars. I divided my medicine and fell to studying how to get the stuff on the bowels. No one came to my assistance, and even her husband left her entirely with me. But I remembered what uncle Ambrose told me of his early doctoring, which was to shut your eyes and go it blind. I rubbed her until she ceased to vomit, gave her twenty more drops, and in one hour's time she was laughing at her husband and blessing me. I am to take dinner with her the 20th of June when her children return from school. Her name is Mrs. ——, and herself and husband reside in Memphis.

☞ A precept of the Hindoo law says: "Strike not, even with a blossom, a wife, though she be guilty of a hundred faults."

☞ Dover, Vt., has not had a death for five years, and the town hearse was put up at raffle the other day, and won by a man who is going to alter it into a milk cart.

The lawns are all so verdant now and nature's monograms illuminate the linen pants of the romantic. They are the only greenbacks current everywhere.

BILLIARD TOURNAMENT.

NEW YORK, June 25.—At the billiard tournament, Cyrelle beat Dion, Ubassey beat Deery.

GRANT AND TOM MURPHY.

A Tribune special from Long Branch, 24th, says: The President, accompanied by Thos. Murphy, left here to-day for Washington. He was visited last evening by several gentlemen, who urged the removal of Mr. Richardson from the treasury department, and it is known that Wall street is making a determined effort to induce the President to make this change. Edward Morgan is urged for successor, and all these facts, and others that cannot now be given, induce the well-informed here to believe that the President's visit to Washington, at this time, has reference to this subject.

Persons who have spoken to the President lately on this subject say that while he did not declare his intention to make a speedy change in the Treasury Department, they left his presence with the belief that his decision was made to do so. It is also ascertained that the official life of Minister Jay will terminate upon the close of the Vienna Exposition. He has long been marked by the President for removal and he would have been displaced several months ago but for the fact that his long residence at Vienna seemed to furnish sufficient reason to the administration for retaining him and his experience during such an important period.

MASSACHUSETTS.

HARVARD.

BOSTON, June 26.—The necrology of Harvard College gives the number of deaths during the past year at 59. The Nestor of Harvard College now is Horace Binney. He is 93 years old and graduated in 1798. Next on the list is Judge Willard Hall who graduated in 1799. He is also 93 years old.

Both of these gentlemen have been members of Congress. Samuel Dunn Parker, the oldest living member of the Boston bar, a graduate in 1799, is next on the list. There are now representatives left of 1799, 1800, 1801, 1802 and 1803.

The annual commencement exercises at Harvard take place to-day.

CUBA.

HAVANA, June 23, via Key West, June 25.—Yellow fever continues with unabated violence. A very large percentage of the cases prove fatal.

What next? asks the New York Graphic of Saturday. Horrors have multiplied upon us since the summer opened until men dare not look into the future and reply to this question. Cholera is on its march up the Mississippi and Ohio rivers. The yellow fever is in this city and in Brooklyn. The thermometer has taken its place among the nineties. Murders are every day occurrences. Suicides abound. Fires sweep away whole villages, and are devastating the mountains on either side of us. On Long Island, in Westchester county, and in New Jersey, is drying up the gardens that supply our market.

Everywhere the crops are deficient, and the signs of the season show that death is preparing to reap a bare harvest in all directions. So the question forces itself upon us with terrible emphasis—what next? Seven years of peace and plenty and health have succeeded the war of the rebellion. It may be that now we are to have a series of pestilence, want and crime. Such is the law of recompense. One nation fares as does another, and each takes its turn of sunshine and darkness. But if knowing the peril, we face it boldly, it will be robbed of half its terrors.

KATALYSINE WATER.

THE United States Dispensatory, the authorized record of our Materia Medica, classes this water with the most renowned Alkaline or Carbonated Springs of Europe. It far excels any other known in known in its self-preserving properties. It has never been claimed for any other mineral water the power to dissolve the urates, or so-called chalk formations in the body or on the limbs and joints. This the Gettysburg Katalysine Water has done in hundreds of instances. Gout, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Gravel, Diabetes, Kidney and Urinary Diseases generally, have all yielded to its influence. It has restored Muscular Power to the Paralytic, cured Abdominal Dropsy, and given healthy action to the Torpid Liver. It has cured Chronic Diarrhoea, Piles, Constipation, Asthma, Catarrh, Diseases of the Skin, General Debility and Nervous Prostration from Mental and Pysical Excesses. All these by the bottled water. It is a powerful antidote for Excessive Eating and Drinking. It corrects the stomach, promotes Digestion, and Relieves the Head almost immediately. Pamphlets containing a history of the Springs, reports from eminent physicians and medical writers, marvelous and well attested cures, and for testimonials from distinguished citizens, will be furnished and sent by mail on application to

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF STATE, COUNTY AND CITY.

The Largest City, County and State Circulation.

DEFIES REFUTATION

To LAWYERS.—A full report of the decisions of the Supreme Court is furnished to THE CONSTITUTION by the Reporter of the Court.

To CORRESPONDENTS.—We do not read anonymous letters and communications. The name and address of the writer are indispensable. Rejected communications we cannot undertake either to return or preserve.

ATLANTA:

THURSDAY, JUNE 26, 1873.

Supreme Court Decisions.

Our pamphlet of the Decisions will be ready next week. Lawyers will please send in their orders. Price $1 00 per copy.

☞ On account of errors in first publication, we republish cards on transfer of the Sun.

☞ Mrs. Hamilton's new book, "Catchet," is having a very large sale. Our city bookstores have sent off large additional orders, which will be filled in a few days. First come first served.

☞ And now it is said that the successor of Chief Justice Chase will be either Attorney General Williams or Ex-Attorney General Hoar. Some say one, and some say the other. It's Hobson's choice with us.

A Kind Compliment.

The Savannah Advertiser and Republican, in an article announcing the absorption of the Sun by THE CONSTITUTION, concludes as follows: "THE CONSTITUTION, with increased strength, can now far outstrip competition, and retain more firmly the position it has occupied, as the leading paper of Atlanta."

☞ The Savannah Advertiser contains a notice of the death of Edward O. Withington, who has been connected with the press of Georgia and South Carolina over twenty years. He was a ready and fluent writer, and was remarkable for a mathematical talent that could grasp and solve commercial calculations of the most complicated character. That terrible disease, consumption, carried him off in the forty-fifth year of his age. He died poor, leaving a wife and two children.

Mr. C. H. C. Willingham.

In the confusion attendant upon the transfer of the Sun, we have postponed a notice of our brother journalist of that paper, Mr. C. H. C. Willingham. A high toned, conscientious, able and laborious editor, we regret to lose him from the ranks—in fact, we trust we shall not, but that he may be induced to connect himself with some journal in the State. We doubt not that he will be solicited to do so. His services should not be lost to the journalism of Georgia.

Shall We Have a Fair?

The Atlanta Agricultural and Industrial Association is in prime working order. About two weeks ago a new board of directors was chosen, and the mercantile, manufacturing and industrial interests are all ably represented in the direction. The merchants and manufacturers of the city are manifestly desirous of having a fair this fall; and they promise every effort needful to get up an exhibition of Atlanta wares and products that will astonish the oldest inhabitant. The officers of the Association already know that a splendid show can be made if the people desire it.

The proposed fair would last a week, during which time the five converging railroad lines would bring in the people at half rates. The people of Gainesville, for instance, could visit Atlanta at an expense for railway fare a head of $2 65 instead of $5 30. A week of cheap travel is a matter of some pecuniary importance to a commercial center like Atlanta.

Then again we have a magnificent Park and buildings, all ready for occupancy. They cost the city about $80,000, and unless we utilize them by holding a Fair, we are hardly getting our money's worth this year.

In 1870 the city voted something over $25,000 for the necessary expenses of a Fair. This year the Association asks for $2,000 to advertise the Fair, print premium lists, etc. Shall the City Council vote the money, and thus secure the holding of a Fair? It might prove a very good investment. We bespeak a candid hearing for the Association, at the meeting of the Council next Friday night.

THE CONSTITUTION.

The Merging Into The Constitution of the Atlanta Sun and Consequent Heavy Increase of Circulation.

The event set forth in cards, appearing in this issue, from the proprietors of this journal and Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, is one which marks another great step in the success of THE CONSTITUTION, and calls for the warm congratulations of its many friends and hosts of readers.

The Atlanta Sun, having been merged into this paper, its daily and weekly subscribers have been transferred to THE CONSTITUTION, which will with to-morrow's issue begin to visit the thousands who have been the readers of the former journal. The powerful advantages resulting to THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION cannot be over-estimated; some of which let us briefly state.

In the first place, the Hon. A. H. Stephens adopts THE CONSTITUTION as the medium through which he will hereafter address the people, and give them the benefit of his counsel evoked from the experience of a life devoted to his country and passed amid its most stirring scenes. We have differed with him in the past, and shall possibly differ with him in the future in political matters and party policy, but such differences can never blind us to the fact, that in the halcyon days of our Union the South gloried in the man, whose great intellectual power and thrilling eloquence constituted him in the eyes of the American people the great leader in the National Legislature. Nor can we of the South ever forget that masterly and triumphant vindication of Southern principles, purposes and hopes in the late struggle, contained in Mr. Stephens' work, the "War between the States"—a vindication that has proven unanswerable, and hands down his name to the generations to come. We are therefore gratified to state that such a man, of national fame, becomes a corresponding editor of THE CONSTITUTION, and the people of this country will hear from him through its columns.

In the next place, the circulation of THE CONSTITUTION becomes vastly increased. Already the largest in the State, as is very well known, its circulation now becomes probably second to none in the South, unless it is that of the Louisville Courier-Journal. We therefore offer to advertisers a medium to the public scarcely equaled south of the Potomac.

We shall not at present enumerate other striking advantages, but shall certainly be pardoned for adding a word about the history of THE CONSTITUTION. Its rapid growth and great success have been the pride of its friends. Struggling through the terrible ordeal of the Reconstruction days and Radical State Government, it had the joy of glorying over their downfall, chronicling but a few days since the dismissal of a $25,000 damage suit instituted against it by the Radical Governor Bullock. Steadily advancing through the generous support of the people and the powerful assistance of the Georgia press, it finally found itself in the most prosperous circumstances, with a great circulation, which to-day is tremendously enlarged, as also its power for good and evil. The proprietors, who are the sole managers of THE CONSTITUTION, appreciate their responsibility and will endeavor faithfully to keep THE CONSTITUTION true to the best interests of the people.

To the Public.

Below we publish a card from the Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, from which it will appear that the Atlanta Sun has been by sale and transfer merged into THE CONSTITUTION, and that THE CONSTITUTION becomes thereby possessed of all the business and good will of the former journal. From this date, therefore, the daily and weekly subscribers of the Sun will receive THE CONSTITUTION in its stead; and all the advertising contracts of the Sun will be executed by THE CONSTITUTION. Thus will the separate advertisers of each paper get the combined circulation of both. The tremendous circulation attained by this consolidation of subscription lists furnishes a rare opportunity to the advertising public. It affords us pleasure to announce further, that the Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, though retiring from newspaper proprietorship, will, from time to time, address the public and his numerous friends through the columns of THE CONSTITUTION in the capacity of a corresponding editor; but it is proper to add that Mr. Stephens will write over his own initials, and be solely responsible for his views, and for his own views only, he having no connection whatever with, or responsibility for, the management or policy of THE CONSTITUTION. Additional interest attends this announcement from the fact that Mr. Stephens soon takes his seat in the halls of the National Congress, where his leadership and his triumphs in the olden and golden days of the Republic made him the pride of the Southern people. The friends of THE CONSTITUTION and its thousands of readers will rejoice over the additional strength and influence imparted by this transaction to their favorite journal, already one of the most prosperous and flourishing of American newspapers.

W. A. HEMPHILL,
E. Y. CLARKE,
Proprietors.

A Card.

The readers of THE CONSTITUTION will be informed elsewhere in its issue of to-day of an arrangement by which the Atlanta Daily and Weekly Sun has become merged in, and consolidated with, THE CONSTITUTION and by which the undersigned has become connected with this old and leading Democratic journal in the South, as corresponding editor. His connection, however, will relate only to the political department of this paper, and only to the extent of presenting his views on all political questions to the public as often as he thinks proper over his own initials, as he has heretofore done in the Sun. This arrangement is very agreeable to the undersigned, and we trust that it will be agreeable also to the readers of THE CONSTITUTION, and that it will, by the joint efforts thus extended, strengthen and advance those great essential principles of the Democracy for the maintenence of which THE CONSTITUTION was established; and for which it became so distinguished in the darkest hours of the party, through which our noble old State passed in the throes of reconstruction.

In the discussion of questions, our object will be the harmony and unity of the Democracy of the United States. On those principles alone depend the preservation and continuation of constitutional liberty on this continent.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE

Auld Lang Syne—Lexington and the Girls of Oglethorpe—Agriculture.

LEXINGTON, OGLETHORPE COUNTY, June 21, 1873.

The present vanishes. I am again among the pleasant memories of the olden time, in this "Sweet Auburn" of my boyhood. And yet these memories are saddened, for the land-marks that I loved, and the pleasant things around which cluster many recollections of my youth, are gone. The tall forest, the poplars that shaded the spring, the play grounds, the old race track, the paths to the bathing places, old man Gregory, with his knee breeches and silver shoe buckles, Billy Gilmer, with his violin, all gone. Yet I love to linger around the spot where I was born, and call up visions of scenes long, long past. The Gilmers, Upsons, Youngs, Moores, Hubbards, Hansons, Crawfords, Coxs, Banks, Goldings, Dudleys, Ponds, Ruperts, Billings, and hosts of others, what recollections of them! I love to call back the aged trees that stood in the woods, the broken fence around the graveyard, the stumps in the meadows, the gushing spring on Governor Gilmer's old place, the lovers' rock, and Brooks' moss-covered mill, with its great wheel harnessed to a little stream. And my companions, all scattered, some in the East, others gone West, while not a few dwell in the city of the dead, where I went this morning and plucked a little piece of box. Like Ophelia's rosemary, "It's for remembrance."

And then, too, the dimple cheeked, bright eyed romping girl, the beauty of that day, I asked for. White hairs are gathering upon her head, and wrinkles are invading the corners of her eyes. Yet she sits in matronly composure in the shadow of a cherry tree in front of her dwelling, fat and of rotund proportions, smoking a pipe, none of the cleanest. Time! time! the wrecks that are shattered along thy pathway.

Lexington looks changed to me, and not the village of my youth. The streets are not so long, nor do the houses cover so much ground as I once thought. 'Tis true the school house where I struggled over the pons asinorum in mathematics, still stands, but my old desk with pen knife inscriptions of "amo, Miss S." is gone, and my teacher of that day now does credit to himself in his seat on the Supreme Court bench of the State. The old school house looks contracted, nor does its chimneys pierce the clouds and seem to prop the skies as they once did. It is a hard saying out of that old book, Ecclesiastes, which declares the increase of knowledge to be the increase of sorrow. An increased knowledge shows that the mists which hang around my memory, as I am passing into the sear and yellow leaf, had obscured my visions of the past.

LEXINGTON

is still an interesting, pleasant town. Many descendants of those mentioned above reside here, and a number of excellent new citizens have been added to the community. The young ladies maintain the reputation their elder sisters enjoyed when I lived here, for beauty, intelligence and worth.

[illegible]

Bad cooking has caused more than one half the peevishness and irritability in the world. A good dinner causes good digestion; this brightens the faculties, preserves the strength of judgment and makes life cheerful. In Lexington, stop at Mr. John W. Bacon's. After dining there a man can lay his hand across his—bread-basket, and seriously avow his conviction, that all men are the very best of people, and that the world itself is a world of milk and honey.

FARMER'S DAUGHTERS.

It would not be safe for either of my brother bachelor editors to visit Oglethorpe, for you know Howitt says, farm houses are dangerous places. In these sylvan retreats, dreaming of mocking birds and thinking only of sheep, you are taken by surprise, and are suddenly shot through by a pair of bright eyes, and are melted away in a bewildering smile that you never dreamed of until the mischief is done. Fair as the lily, fresh as May dew, graceful as the peacock, and sweet as a posy of violets, you are lost before you can think. Among the barrel churns and rows of bee hives you are stung by the queen bee in the eye before you know it.

THE PEOPLE.

Oglethorpe is noted now, as it ever has been, for the sobriety, industry, intelligence and worth of its citizens. At all public gatherings in the county, you will find as well-dressed, well-behaved and as intelligent a collection of people as can be found in the State.

IMPROVED AGRICULTURE.

Agriculture in this county was once regarded as a simple act to be successfully imparted from father to son. Once the earth was compelled to produce the largest return with the least possible outlay of time and labor. This constituted the chief study of most cultivators of the soil, and when land was exhausted it was abandoned for virgin fields. Many of the fair portions of this county were run over by planters destroying timber and soil, who, like a small army of locusts, left a desert in their tracks. Now, this lamentable style of tillage is being abolished, and farmers base their system on an exact acquaintance with the laws regulating vegetable nutrition and the action of chemical agents upon the soil; in short, upon patient and laborious scientific analysis and experiments. The consequence is, every year lands thus looked after and cultivated are becoming more and more valuable, and a class of intelligent farmers are springing up in the county, who are unwilling to go over and over the old process; who will not follow in the beaten path of their ancestors; planting as they planted—wasting as they wasted the elements of production, but who will improve the lands, and contribute to the wealth and social prosperity of the county.

CROPS.

Here, as everywhere else, there has been an abundance of rain. The supply has exceeded the demand. Heavy rains several days ago are reported as having seriously damaged crops in some localities. Where the crops have been cleaned they are looking remarkably well. The wheat crop is a small one but pretty good. The oat crop is promising. Cotton and corn grassy in some parts of the county. Upon the whole, up to the present time, the crop prospects of the county are very encouraging. L.

THE CHOLERA IN NASHVILLE.

Views of a Veteran Physician and Editor Who Has Watched the Epidemic from its Beginning.

NASHVILLE, TENN., June 23, 1873.

Editors Constitution: Should the cholera continue for three hundred days the same it has been during the last three, it will send to their graves seventeen thousand four hundred and sixty-six of our population—a number about equal to all that now remain in the city. The facts attending this mortality have made a profound impression on my mind, and recall very forcibly what I saw of the pestilence in the city of Buffalo in 1832, when in the practice of medicine, and when it first appeared in this country. Then I saw it kill men, women and children, apparently well, in three, four, or a few more hours.

A few days ago a man near where I board in this city was on the street in the morning when I came from breakfast to my office, well apparently, and at two o'clock of the same day was dead and in his coffin. You will agree with me that phenomena of this character deserve both earnest study and thoughtful discussion. You have known something of the undersigned over 27 years, and on that account this letter is written with the more freedom and confidence.

Buffalo Creek is a stream large and deep enough at its mouth to form a good harbor for lake steamers and sailing vessels. Some times high water from freshets overflows considerable land, but the worst inundations come from high winds that blow down Lake Erie, and in early times sent a full tide of water over thousands of acres of either wet swamps or land a little higher raised by the deposit of mud and silt, on which corn is grown. With the same climate, no place near the Savannah River can be found more favorable to chills and fever, cholera morbus and other malarial diseases.

Seven years medical practice in Erie county before 1832 enabled the writer to see and say that the cholera of that year brought physicians into the presence of a new enemy. Then began the analysis and research. Why was it not an indigenous disease, and miasmatic in its origin? Because its essential symptoms were peculiar, although not easy to describe. There was a general and early contraction of the skin, as though the fluids underneath had been withdrawn; giving a shrunken appearance to the face, hands and arms, while the blood was affected in a way not seen in the yellow or typhus fever, or in any common bilious malady. When arterial blood is changed into venous blood, its color is changed greatly, but it is never the cholera blood under the skin of a patient in a collapse state.

Not to dwell on symptoms, however interesting, let us inquire into the cause or causes of these phenomena? Evidence is either negative or positive in its bearing on a case. If the cholera of 1832 arose from any gas derived from either a vegetable or animal substance, why did not similar plants, animals and organic substances, produce similar gases and cholera, in some previous summer, in the State of New York, within the memory of old physicians? We must assume the altogether improbable creation of a new gas, compound, or poison, or give up this gaseous theory of the source of cholera. All the gases that nature forms from decomposing compounds in fecal matters, in cities, are well known to chemists.

These offensive gases and vapors, though poisonous, are generally so diluted in atmospheric air as to harm few, if any persons. Opium is a well known poison, but a drop of laudanum kills no one. Mephitic gases were quite as abundant in cities before the birth of active sanitary precautions as they now are, yet there was, before 1832, no cholera in the United States, but yellow fever in New York and Philadelphia. The disease was brought from Europe, and probably Asia, not in any disorganized virus, or matter of any kind, but in living germs as vital and peculiar in their character as rust which assails our wheat plants in one parasitic form, and smut, which is no less a microscopic parasite, yet it attacks and often destroys wheat in a very different way. Look at the number of little ticks, chiggers, itch and scab mites, trichinæ, gregariaidæ, worms and other known animal parasites that prey on the human species. Microscopic vegetable germs float in the blood and bowels of man like sea weed in the ocean; or they may have an attachment like Spanish moss growing on a cypress tree in a swamp. Dry rot that grows in the heart of timber is a plant; so that in the vegetable as in the animal kingdom, life destroys life, and plants kill and eat animals, as well as animals devour plants.

A young lady recently returned from Europe, living in a locally salubrious part of the city, was taken by this epidemic and died in a short time. No deleterious gas could have come to her residence in a state so concentrated as to produce this effect. But one germ of a microscopic plant, if it had come a mile from a privy, or sewer, would not be diluted or weakened a particle. Coming in at a window open for ventilation, and inhaled into the lungs by breathing—this cell is small enough to pass with vital air into the circulating blood, where it is more at home than in the open air on a dung-heap, and multiplies its kind by the million. This is cholera unmixed and unadulterated. How long do you think ants and their eggs may be kept in a hollow stick of wood or tree, as often seen on a farm, and then brought to life? For a thousand years, as well as for a month in winter. The germs of blight on grapes, apples, pears and wheat are very tenacious of life in a dormant state, and all malarial and cholera germs appear to be of this character.

A bushel of corn meal or flour, if placed in a warm, damp room, will soon heat, mildew or mould and spoil. Whence, the heat found so often by farmers in shelled corn and meal? If there was no dampness there could be no increase of heat; and if there was no dampness nor heat, there could be no musty meal or corn. In one sense, this musty corn is sick; it has the cholera. In this case humidity alone, with the seeds of mildew, does the mischief. The seeds of cholera or chills and fever, taken into the system in warm weather may stay there for years, and sometimes grow in cold weather, from the natural heat of the body.

The human body is a living hot bed, which may propagate at the same time parasitic plants within by the million, and body lice without in considerable numbers. Hot beds for propagating cholera are constructed by many colored families in Nashville, without the fact being known to them or the public. That pestilence which walks faster and farther at the damp hour of midnight than at the noon of day, should be studied more with the microscope.

Cholera Decreasing in Nashville.

Increasing in Chattanooga.

Alarm of the People.

Special Dispatches to The Constitution.

CHATTANOOGA, June 25, 1873.

The cholera here has taken a fresh leap, which has caused great excitement. There is now a perfect panic; people are packing up and getting ready to take first trains out of town. The weather is fearfully hot. We have twenty new cases to-day, though no deaths are yet reported. Doctors claim to have it under control. LOOKOUT.

NASHVILLE, June 25.

There were twenty-nine deaths yesterday from cholera. It is estimated there will be about the same number to-day. There is very little excitement now, as the people are apparently getting used to it. B.

Nashville.

Thirty-nine deaths occurred on Monday—11 whites and 28 colored; all cholera cases except two.

Says the Union and American of Tuesday morning:

One of the saddest bereavements that has come under our observation since the commencement of the prevailing disease was the death on Sunday evening last of two beautiful children, son and daughter of our esteemed citizen, George W. Jenkins, of Edgefield, a suburb of Nashville. The little boy was attacked about half-past ten o'clock, and the little girl who had been playing in the grassy yard up to twelve o'clock, was shortly afterwards a victim of the dread disease. Before the sun had disappeared at eventide little George and Daisey were cold in death.

EASILY FRIGHTENED.

Last week a resident of Nashville who had just lost his wife by cholera, got aboard a train on the St. Louis and Southeastern road, and went up to a little town in Kentucky. A few days later a son went up to see him, but had no sooner got off the train than he was surrounded by the residents of the place, who held a council of war, which resulted in the young man being put aboard the first Nashville train, and shipped home again without seeing his father.

Chattanooga.

The Times publishes the following list of cholera deaths:

June 23.—Mrs. E. J. Richards, Mrs Anna —— (Swedish woman,) and James Lomenich.

June 23d.—Jack Slaughter, (col.)

June 24th.—Mrs. Mary Evans, Lillie McCormack, and a soldier at United States Barracks. Benjamin James died of cramp colic.

Two colored men, John Montgomery and Samuel Lilly, also died of cholera this day.

The Times advises the Chattanoogaians not to imitate the example of Nashville people in cowardly flights that demoralize the poor people who cannot get away. "Keep cool and stay at home," is its motto.

The Knoxville Press and Herald says that a son of Judge Hooke is one of the sick in Chattanooga.

Memphis.

One Memphis paper does not hesitate to tell the whole truth. The Ledger of Saturday says:

Several thousand people have left the city; business might as well be suspended; the streets are nearly deserted, and thirty people were buried yesterday. Of these seventeen were pronounced cholera and seven of other diseases near akin.

A whole family (save an infant) and lady visitor died in less than twenty-four hours on Monroe street, and many sudden deaths under the most afflicting circumstances have occurred within the last ten days, and still no sanitary regulations! No one to forbid the sale of rotten fruits and vegetables, or to see that disinfectants are used in freshing alleys and back yards, where the germs of disease and death constantly arise in sickening vapors. Surely, this is no time for dallying or shirking responsibilities or counting costs. It can no longer be said that the disease is confined to the ignorant and the colored people, for it has invaded the best families in the city, and carried off people of faultless habits as far as known. The time has come to speak plainly, and we shall not hesitate to perform our duty to the public in making known the facts and pointing out negligence where it becomes so glaringly apparent.

The following frightful paragraph also appears in the same number of the Ledger:

The deaths of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Affleck, their daughter Katie, and Mrs. J. S. Wilkins, which took place since Thursday, has startled the community. It seems that on Wednesday last Mrs. Wilkins ate dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Affleck; soon afterward the cook was attacked with the prevailing disease, but did not die. Little Katie Affleck died on Thursday morning, Mrs. Affleck died on Thursday night, Mr. Affleck died on Friday afternoon, and Mrs. Wilkins died early this morning. It is reported that Miss Affleck, a sister of the deceased, W. H. Affleck, and also his only child, a little baby, are quite sick to-day.

Elsewhere.

The Lebanon Herald of the 21st puts the cholera deaths in fifteen days at 19. There were twelve or fifteen new cases in the village, and the disease was not abating.

Among the latest deaths at Gallatin was that of Miss Glenn, daughter of John L. Glenn, Water Tax Collector of Nashville.

Thirteen had died of cholera in Greenville up to the 21st.

No cholera in Knoxville.

Cincinnati, Paducah and Evansville, Indiana, in the West, and Raleigh, Wheeling and Washington in the East, acknowledge the presence of the P. D.

☞ On one of the trips of an Aspinwall steamer, the steerage passengers were so numerous as to make them uncomfortable. The sleeping accommodations were fully occupied by a Californian, who approached the captain and said: "I should like to have a sleeping berth, if you please." "Why, where have you been sleeping these last two nights since we left?" "Well, I've been sleeping a-top of a sick man; but he's got better now, and won't stand it no longer."

Lost.—A large brass door key. The finder will please leave it at this office.

Watermelons.—T. L. Wells, on Whitehall street, has fine watermelons, and plenty of them. No doubt about it.

Fulton Dragoons.—The members of the "Fulton Dragoons" are requested to meet at the old Concordia Hall, at 8 o'clock, to-night. Business of importance will be transacted.

Good Music.—Dr. Wurm's brass band made excellent music at Professor Richardson's Select School's entertainment at the Kimball House Hall night before last.

A Colored Excursion Party.—A lot of Montgomery and West Point negroes visited the city yesterday on an excursion. They had a ball in a vacant store on Alabama street. They left last night on the eleven o'clock train.

Pease and His Wife are still offering the choicest delicacies to the public. Their table is supplied with the freshest vegetables and game the market affords. Persons desiring a good meal, and at most reasonable figures, will do well to give them a call.

Items of News.—The Knights Templar of Atlanta attended the Southern Masonic Female College commencement at Covington yesterday. The young married Knights enjoyed it hugely—young ladies pinning on rosettes.

Our dispatches show alarm on the part of the people of Chattanooga, and a slight increase of cholera. The afternoon Constitution will contain the latest telegraphic intelligence. No cases yet this side of Chattanooga.

Two marriages in high life reported from Athens.

Tax on Gross Amount of Sales.—From the report in yesterday's Constitution of the action of the Tax Committee, we see that they will recommend the tax on gross amount of sales to be increased from 25 to 50 cents on the $100. It strikes us that this will be quite burdensome, and hope that the Council will give due consideration to this matter. Now that Atlanta has built up such a great wholesale business, let us be careful not to cripple it by burdensome taxation. We counsel against action which may prove suicidal in the end.

The Blacker Case.—Since writing our court report we learn the jury in this case made up their verdict about ten o'clock last night. Judge Hopkins and the attorneys for the State and the defense were sent for, and the verdict received. The jury found the defendant guilty of simple assault. This lessened the offense from a felony to a misdemeanor. Judge Hopkins sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of $600 and costs, and put him into custody until the money is forthcoming. Court then adjourned until this morning.

The New Orleans Mutual (Fire) Insurance Company.—In another column appears the advertisement of this Company. It will be seen that reference is made to many of the most prominent business men of Atlanta, who have thus allowed the powerful influence of their names to the recommendation of this company to the people of our city. The gentlemen referred to would not permit such use of their names were they not satisfied that the New Orleans Mutual is strong and reliable, and worthy the confidence of our citizens. We have had exhibited to us the contract with the Louisiana Mutual and the Factors' and Traders' Insurance companies whereby all the risks of the New Orleans Mutual are reinsured to the extent of twelve-twentieths, thus literally illustrating the old maxim of "making assurance doubly sure." Should the New Orleans Mutual fail, these other companies are bound to respond to the extent mentioned.

Several weeks since we took occasion to speak of Mr. James H. Low, the General Manager, recently President of the Equitable Life in New Orleans. In removing to Atlanta he but returns to his old home, as he was reared in Georgia. The New Orleans journals speak of him and his business qualities in the highest terms. The local agent, Mr. [illegible] Putnam, is well and favorably known in Atlanta, and is undoubtedly the man to "move things."

The New York Spectator of June thus speaks of this Southern company of two and three-quarter million dollars of assets:

"The New Orleans insurance companies bear a high reputation for respectability, and, while they are among the most conservative, they are among the most prosperous companies in the country.

The New Orleans Mutual Insurance Company last year earned $[illegible] in premiums, and paid in losses, expenses, etc., $176,871, which left the policy holders and stockholders a profit of $[illegible]. The company's assets are $[illegible]. It was organized as far back as 18[illegible], on the stock plan, with a capital of $[illegible], and was called the "New Orleans Insurance Company." Under this form it continued its business until 18[illegible], when the title of 'Mutual' was added, and the stock was increased to $500,000, paid up. Its business has always been conducted with conservatism, and the profits have been large. It does a fire, marine and river business, but each branch is managed separately, [illegible] each is entitled to its own profits. The President, Mr. Tuyes, is an underwriter of long experience and honorable record, and the directors are among the most substantial capitalists of the Crescent City."

SOUTHERN MASONIC FEMALE COLLEGE.

Commencement Day at Covington.

Honors, Addresses, Knight Templars, Etc.

June 24, 1873.

The commencement exercises were attended by large numbers. The hall was packed. The Masons showed their appreciation of the institution by the numbers present. The Grand Lodge was this morning escorted from the Masonic Hall to the College grounds, where they were joined by and both the Grand Lodge and the young ladies, under the escort of the Knight Templars of Atlanta, who came down for the occasion, with Grand Eminent Commander Tuller, marched to the hall.

THE GRADUATING CLASS

acquitted themselves handsomely. The valedictory and first honor were borne off by Miss Dyer, of Monticello, who proved herself well worthy of the position awarded her.

DIPLOMAS WERE GIVEN to seven graduates, and President Bradshaw, in his baccalaureate, evinced much feeling, and evoked it from his audience.

THE ANNUAL ADDRESS

was delivered by Mr. Davidson, a young lawyer of Augusta, and made a fine impression. He showed himself to be an orator of great promise.

To-night there is a

SOCIABLE AT THE COLLEGE,

and a ball at the hotel. The occasion has been a most auspicious one.

SOCIETY NEWS.

Weddings in Athens.

Athens, June 25th.

The day after the wedding, how much does it express, of listless indifference, of lazy retrospection, and a hazy culling up of pleasant recollections of the night before. A lounging, drowsy, dreamy quiet appears to pervade the city.

Yesterday evening (June 24th), Major John T. Burns, the handsome and efficient ex-Senator, of Rome, Ga., was married at the residence of Mr. James Carleton, of this place, by the Rev. Mr. Lane, to Miss Bella Harris, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Col. E. M. Harris, of the former place. They left the city this morning for Rome, Ga. For the loving couple, Heaven's tenderest favor and fortune's sunniest smiles are invoked.

ANOTHER MARRIAGE.

We have rarely seen a more brilliant assemblage than that which congregated at the Methodist Church in this city last night, to witness the nuptial ceremonies of Mr. Henry C. Bussey, of Columbus, and Miss Lizzie Lucas, daughter of Mr. Frederick W. Lucas, of Athens, Rev. Dr. T. E. Skinner officiating, assisted by Rev. J. Lewis. The church was most beautifully decorated and the arrangements all perfect. Long before the appointed hour every seat was filled and the aisles were equally crowded. The order observed in the bridal party upon entering the church was as follows: Miss Sallie Lucas, of Athens, and Mr. A Young, of Columbus; Miss Katie Bussey, of Columbus, and Mr Fred Lucas, of Athens; Miss E L Hill, of Athens, and Dr W Bussey, of Columbus; Miss Mattie Grady, of Athens, and Mr Henry Bruce, of Columbus; Miss Hattie Washburne, of Athens, and Mr John Hughes, of New York; Miss E Hamilton, of Athens, and Major Gunby, of Columbus; Miss M Dearing, of Athens, and Mr C Harman, of Atlanta; Miss Norma Clayton, of Athens, and Howell Glenn, Esq, of Atlanta; Miss Minnie Falligan, of Savannah, and Mr J Hurt, of Columbus; Miss Bessie Rutherford, of Athens, and Mr A Luckie, of Athens.

Could we, dear lady readers, describe the dresses of beautiful pink and blue, we would go deep into the mystery of fashionable trousseaux and elegant toilettes, but our pen fails—we are inadequate to the task. The bride never looked more beautiful, nor bride's inside more charming, and no wedding was ever solemnized more auspiciously, and we know that we but reflect the feeling of all present that in the midst of the splendor of the occasion, Athens was about to lose one of her brightest jewels in society.

THE RECEPTION.

After the marriage, the guests were driven to the residence of Mr. Lucus, the spacious grounds of which were made dazzlingly brilliant by innumerable lights, artistically arranged and producing a charming effect.

The reception at the residence of the bride's parents was on a scale of completeness commensurate with the occasion. Everything in the way of flowers, etc, gave beauty and fragrance to the scene; every viand, substantial and light, tempting to the appetite, constantly filled the supper room with appreciative partakers.

Of the richness and profusion of the bridal presents we do not deem it our privilege to comment, but will add that in all the arrangements and in their execution Athens has not seen a more brilliant, tasteful and happy bridal gathering. L.

Meeting of Tax Committee.—The tax committee of the City Council met again last night in order to perfect their report of the tax ordinance for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1874. The ordinance, which will be finally acted on on Friday night, makes some very material changes, the principal of which we gave an account of in yesterday's issue.

Another Death by Lightning.—On Monday afternoon, during a severe thunder storm, Mrs. George Wade was struck and instantly killed by lightning. At the time of the calamity the deceased was engaged in hoeing cotton on the plantation of Mr. V. M. Tumlin in Polk county. The clothing had been almost entirely consumed before the body was found.

Polk county and the adjacent section is having a considerable amount of rain. It has seriously interfered with the harvesting of the wheat crop.

Our Public Schools.—As will be seen by the advertisement of the Superintendent of Public Schools, our citizens are invited to witness the closing exercises of the schools on Friday.

We hope there will be a general attendance. The Public Schools of Atlanta have already proved to be an eminent success. Although as yet in their infancy they are second to none in the South, and our citizens cannot do better than encourage them by their presence at these interesting exercises. The schools now close for their summer vacation. They will be opened again on the first Monday in September.

Personal.—Mr. E. E. Rawson and daughter, and Captain Boynton and wife, returned to the city yesterday from their Western trip. Mr. Rawson stopped in Nashville. He found no business doing, but the merchants holding out bravely against the panic.

Mr. James Thornton, aged 79 years, the County Commissioner of Public Schools from Greene county, is in attendance upon the convention, can walk from his house at Union Point to Greensboro, a distance of seven miles, and back same day and not tire. Has been a teacher fifty years, and married nearly fifty years ago; has taught, in some instances, the grand children of some of his first boys and girls; is devoted to his profession, is quite a mathematician and although not in favor of the new notions about analysis and other improvement in figures, the man must be fairly awake who expects to stamp him in any department of mathematics. He is a good linguist, and is said to be the only man in the United States that can beat Tom Lowe on the fiddle. He plays jigs, hornpipes, etc.; is averse to any innovation in music and figures upon the good old times of his boyhood.

Special Meeting of Council.—A special meeting of Council was held last night at the Recorder's courtroom to consider sanitary measures for the city. His Honor Mayor Hammock in the chair.

Alderman Boring offered the following:

Whereas, As there is prevailing in Memphis and Nashville, Tenn., as well as other places an epidemic closely resembling Asiatic cholera if not nearly that much dreaded and fatal disease, and

Whereas, It is the opinion of the best medical men of the country that unwholesome and stale vegetables, watermelons, and fruit are the feeders of this much-dreaded disease; therefore,

Be it ordained, That the sale of watermelons, fruits and unwholesome and stale vegetables are strictly prohibited in the city of Atlanta during the prevalence of the cholera epidemic, and that the Board of Health, by and through the assistance of the Marshal, see that this resolution is strictly and rigidly enforced.

Alderman McMillan offered the following as a substitute, which was read three times and adopted:

Be it ordained by the Mayor and Council that for the present the sale of watermelons and stale fruits, fish and vegetables, be prohibited, and that this ordinance be strictly enforced by the Board of Health and the city Marshal. Any person violating this ordinance shall pay a fine of not more than fifty dollars, or be imprisoned not more than thirty days, in the discretion of the Recorder or Mayor.

Alderman Beatie made a statement in reference to bids for stench traps, to be placed over the sewers, by Hunnicutt & Bellingrath. The matter was referred to the Committee on Sewers, with power to act.

On motion, Council adjourned.

On 'Change.—The attendance on 'change yesterday was large, and the meeting very interesting. The subject of city taxation was brought up and considered by Mr. John A. Dunn, of Dunn, Ogletree & Co., who gave the following notice:

"Having been frequently impressed with the belief that the merchants of Atlanta have been and are now bearing more than their usual burden of city taxation. On to-morrow I shall move that the Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce shall appoint a committee of three to investigate the tax question and report the injustice (if any exists) in the present system of levying and collecting the taxes as against merchants.

A lively discussion grew out of this and the increase in taxation on gross amount of sales as well as the measure of requiring a registry tax was debated. All of which was considered very unconstitutional and unjust. The determination to resist it was plainly evident. It being ascertained that the tax committee of Council were preparing an ordinance at this time which had to be adopted, a committee consisting of Messrs. Dunn, A. C. Wyly and Langston was appointed to confer with the tax committee and obtain relief or take such other steps as they might deem best.

Mr. John A. Stephens called attention to the ordinance of the Tax Committee relating to itinerant traders, which, it was understood, they would recommend to Council as their report on the petition of the Chamber of Commerce (section 13 of the tax ordinance.) He stated that it did not cover the object desired by the Chamber, and prevent the injury complained of, because it allowed the itinerant traders, after having sold their wares, to make a return of the amount within six hours, thus allowing them ample facility to evade the law by getting out of its reach.

THE COURTS.

Proceedings of the Superior Court Yesterday—Jury Out in the Blacker Case—Trials Before the United States Commissioner.

Three Alleged Violators of the Revenue Laws to be tried to-day—Reports from the Justice's Courts, Etc.

Fulton Superior Court.

This court met yesterday morning promptly at 8½ o'clock, Judge Hopkins presiding.

The trial of C. B. Blacker for assault with intent to murder, was resumed and concluded. Arguments were made for the State by Col. S. B. Spencer and the Solicitor General, and for the defense by Colonel P. L. Mynatt and General Gartrell. Each one of these learned gentlemen did his level best, and during the whole day, until nearly six in the afternoon, the court room resounded with flights of eloquence which must have been inexpressibly gratifying to the jury, especially as they have already been locked up together two nights.

Captain Blacker, if acquitted, will certainly owe it to the able and untiring efforts of his attorneys. Judge Hopkins delivered to the jury one of the clearest and most impressive charges we have ever heard. He occupied considerably over a half an hour, and certainly has left no possible doubt upon the mind of any juror as to the law governing this well-fought case. The jury retired at half-past six o'clock, and court adjourned immediately afterwards, with the understanding that whenever the jury should agree, the Judge and parties were to be sent for, and the verdict received. To the hour of our penning this article, they are still out. Considerable public interest was manifested yesterday in this case, and the court room was well filled with spectators during the entire day.

This morning the case against Pen Bedell will be taken up, and promises to occupy the balance of the week.

The Commissioner's Court.

Things brightened up over here considerably yesterday, and Commissioner Smith kept pretty busy.

Two cases were tried. One against William Mills and one against Berry Chumlie. Both these gentlemen are of Dawson county, and were charged with distilling and retailing spirituous liquors unlawfully. After a full hearing, the defendants were discharged. Messrs. Hill & Candler ably represented the defense.

This morning at ten o'clock Messrs James Smith and T. A. Morris, both of this city, will be tried before the Commissioner for distilling and removing spirituous liquors unlawfully. These cases have been pending for a day or two, but the trial has been delayed on account of the absence of Colonel Wimpey, who represents the defense, and who has been in the Blacker case at the Superior Court.

At three o'clock this afternoon Mr. Frank Satterfield, of Dawson county, will be tried for a similar offense. The prisoner will be represented by Messrs. Hill & Conley.

The Justices' Courts.

This morning at ten o'clock Justice Munday will hear an interesting possessory warrant case between Mrs. O'Shields and her husband, Harvey O'Shields. The wife alleges that the husband is trying to get possession of certain personal property which had been set apart to herself and her children as a homestead. A. M. Thrasher for the plaintiff. W. A. Tignor contra.

Justice Hammond yesterday afternoon heard a seduction case wherein Mr. James Bass figured as defendant, and Mrs Mary J. Jones as prosecutrix.

These parties have been cross-firing on each other for several days, in the way of fornication cases, misdemeanor cases, and divers other cases. We learn, however, that all these warrants have been dismissed, and the fight has centered on the seduction case. We left the Court room after six yesterday afternoon, and the battle was then raging, but we will try to give the result in our next issue.

Station House Report.

There were four city arrests made yesterday. All for disorderly conduct and drunkenness. Lucinda Wooten was again locked up upon a warrant for larceny after a trust. She had been released upon a promise to return the goods, but failed to do so.

Atlanta University for Colored People.

SUNDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Yesterday witnessed the closing exercises of this institution of instruction for the colored people of Atlanta.

The exercises were varied and interesting—the essays and addresses being interspersed with pleasing music by the teachers and students.

The first order of business was an oration—"The Reformation," by Mansfield D. Bryant, of Opelika, Alabama. It was well delivered and evinced a pretty fair conception by the speaker of the subject-matter.

This was followed by another oration—"The future of our people," by John Mackintosh, of Savannah.

George S. Smith, of the same place, then delivered an oration on "Ignorance," in which he sought to show that this was the bane of society—the curse of the colored race.

Then followed four essays by girls.

Rev. E. M. Cravatt, of New York, then proceeded to address the graduating class, comprised of the four girls who read essays. The reverend gentleman preceded his remarks to the class by a few explanatory remarks to the audience, in which he wished to impress them with the fact that these graduates were from the Normal and not the Collegiate Department, they having applied and fitted themselves for the duties of teachers.

To the class he said, they were the first graduates from the Atlanta University—on them rested a great responsibility; their teachers would look to them for a good report, would watch their actions with anxious and hopeful hearts.

The field was wide, and there was much to be done. The great South had just awakened to a just appreciation of the importance of free schools to all classes. We hope and expect much from you, then, in your new field, and think you will bear a noble and honorable part by your devotion in behalf of these great interests of the State. Your teachers here will remember you, watch over you, and glory in your success. If you fail to prove yourselves faithful, how sad it will be to their hearts. The Trustees of this institution rejoice in the consciousness of your ability—may you prove faithful in the discharge of your every duty; to your God first, your friends and pupils next, and to yourselves.

After the conclusion of these remarks, Rev. George Whipple, senior Secretary of the American Missionary Society, delivered an address, in which he referred to [illegible] colored race, [illegible] concluding with words of comfort and cheer.

The graduating class received their diplomas.

THE COUNTY SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS.

A LARGE MEETING.

State Commissioner of Public Schools Gets an Interesting Information of the Workings of the Schools from all Parts of the State.

At ten o'clock yesterday morning the County Boards of School Commissioners met in the hall of the Lower House of the Legislature. On motion J. P. Logan was elected temporary chairman, and Mr. B. M. Zettler was elected Secretary. The roll of counties was called and it was ascertained that sixty-four counties were found represented.

On motion the State Commissioner, Hon. Gustavus J. Orr, was elected permanent President, and Rev. Theodore E. Smith appointed assistant secretary.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. T. E. Smith.

Mr. John B. Mallard, Commissioner from Liberty county, moved that a committee of one from each Congressional district be appointed by the chair, who shall report business for the convention.

The motion was adopted, and the chair appointed for the First Congressional District Hon J B Mallard, of Liberty; for the Second, Hon Daniel McGill, of Decatur; for the Third, Rev T H Stewart, of Sumter; for the Fourth, Hon W T Revell, of Meriwether; for the Fifth, Hon E A Davis, of DeKalb; for the Sixth, Dr W [illegible], of [illegible]; for the Seventh, Hon W T Grooves, of Cobb; for the Eighth, Hon C R Strother, of [illegible]; and for the Ninth, Hon [illegible] J Hughes, of Habersham.

On motion the reports of various Boards of what was being done in their respective counties were [illegible] allowed to report, and to obtain such information as related to the general school interest in their counties.

On motion questions for discussion relating to public school matters were referred to the committee on business.

The reports of County Boards were then received, the [illegible] being called on, the delegates [illegible] of the status and condition of the public schools in his county. The general impression prevailed that a sufficient time had not elapsed in order to successfully establish schools in all the counties. A lack of confidence was apparent on the part of citizens in the present system.

The matter of local taxation had been acted on while in other counties such provision had failed to have been made.

The failure to pay the teachers in 1871 had in a great measure, created an opposition to public school education. As soon as it was ascertained that ample provision could be made for the payment of the salaries of the teachers in future, this opposition would be done away with.

On motion, the various Superintendents of Public Schools in the cities were added to the Committee on Business.

Professor Mallon, Superintendent of the Public Schools in the city of Atlanta, extended an invitation to the convention to visit those schools, which was accepted.

On motion, a committee of three, consisting of State Commissioner Orr, Hutson of Schley, and Pounds of Butts, was appointed to wait on the Governor and request him to deliver an address, at night, to the Convention on the subject of Public Schools.

The Convention then took a recess till 3 o'clock, P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Convention reassembled at 3 o'clock—Mr. President Orr in the chair.

The reports of county boards was resumed.

Pending the delivery of these reports, the Committee on Business made a report which was read as follows:

The committee respectfully report that they have examined the papers and questions referred to them. They find that most of the difficulties and questions presented are sufficiently explained in the law. A few of them we have referred to Commissioner Orr, who will reply to them at his convenience, during the session of the convention.

The committee recommend that the three following changes should be made in the in the school law of the State.

1. That the counties shall be authorized to levy a tax to supplement the State appropriation.
2. That the entire traveling expenses of the State School Commissioner, including his board and hotel bills, shall be paid by the State.
3. That the enumeration be taken once in three years instead of annually.

The committee also recommend that the following question be discussed by this Convention:

How shall the school law be put into practical operation in the different counties of the State?

That the Convention adjourn sine die at 1 P. M. to-morrow.

J. B. Mallard, Chairman.

Mr. Revell, of Meriwether, offered a minority report as follows:

Inasmuch as we have been trying the present school law for two and a half years—two years of that time under the superintendence of Professor Orr—and finding the law a decided failure, as evidenced by the reports to-day, it is hereby recommended by this committee that the Legislature be requested to repeal the present law in toto, and the re-adoption of the plan of education as contained in Irwin's Revised Code, with such changes as may be necessary to suit our times, retaining the present offices of State Superintendent and County Commissioner.

Both reports were laid on the table for the time being to be called up at any time that may suit the convenience of the Convention for their action.

The reports of the county commissioners were resumed.

On motion, superintendents of the public schools of Savannah and Atlanta made reports of the schools in these places.

The Convention adjourned till 8½ o'clock P. M.

NIGHT SESSION.

The Convention re-assembled at 8½ o'clock P. M.

A few additional Commissioners made reports of a not very interesting character from their respective counties. A very remarkable sameness characterized the reports—some were entirely too long and verbose. Colonel Barrow, of Rockdale, varied the usual routine by a really creditable and encouraging speech, presenting the status of his county in a very complimentary manner.

The question came up on the report of the select committee from each Congressional District. Major Revill, of Meriwether, moved that his minority report be adopted, as contained in the afternoon's proceedings. He sustained his motion, which was seconded by Rev. T. E. Smith, of Bartow county, in a humorous, but, at the same time, sensible, pointed and well-worded speech, receiving marked attention and advancing ideas well worthy of serious thought and reflection. He spoke calmly and dispassionately, but earnestly and to the point.

He made an appeal in behalf of Meriwether county, showing that she had paid about $5,000 into the school fund and had been awarded only $915 as her pro rata share. He contended that the law should be radically amended.

Professor Mallon replied at some length, showing perfect familiarity with the "system," as he called it, and much enthusiasm in its behalf. He replied seriatim to Mr. Revill's well put arguments, but did not shake the latter's faith.

Professor Orr also made some very telling points, proving himself master of his business and a most intimate acquaintance with the duties of his laborious and important office.

It was moved, that on account of the lateness of the hour, the convention adjourn to meet at 8½ o'clock to-morrow morning, Professor Orr to have the floor.

A rare and spicy discussion, accomplishing much good, is expected. Let the truth be spoken, and errors be pointed out.

Mr. Logan, of Clayton, was in the chair.

DAILY CONSTITUTION

A SORROWING SHAH.

The Multiplied Infelicities of a Polygamous Potentate.

The Sultanas Sent Back from Moscow.

[From the New York Times.]

The Shah of Persia is expected to reach London to-day, but it is doubtful whether he is in a condition of mind sufficiently serene to fully enjoy the London smoke. For the bitterness of parting, not merely with one beloved object, but with six of his best and plumpest wives, tinges all things with sadness, so far as the Shah is concerned. It was at Moscow that he tore himself sternly from the multitudinous arms of his harem, and since that wretched hour he has traveled wifeless and desolate, reading Hafiz aloud to his defenseless ministers, and by turns bewailing his lost darlings, or fiercely demanding that a fresh half dozen be sent him from Teheran by the first available express.

The difficulty between the Shah and his wife originated as follows: Those very beauteous beings on arriving in Moscow felt that they could not do better than improve the opportunity for innocent dissipation thus placed within their reach. Persia, with its local Mrs. Grundys, was far away. They could hence fearlessly taste the delights of opera bouffe, and of promenading in public devoid of veils. They had heard—no one knows how—of the wicked hotels of the infidels, in which quantities of eligible young men ready for the purposes of flirtation were always to be found. They pictured to themselves the pleasure of residing unveiled in the immediate proximity of these admirable young men, and of making their acquaintance in surreptitious moments while the Shah and his meddlesome eunuchs might be conveniently absent. They would, moreover, coax their lord and master to buy them infidel bonnets and hoop-skirts and paniers and high-heeled boots, and other delicious devices of Sheitan, wherewith they would temporarily transform themselves into the likeness of the daughters of the Giaour and vex the hated souls of the impertinent enuchs by casting aside the laws of the Koran and the traditions of Ali, and openly drinking the sinful champagne and feasting upon sausage made of the unutterable flesh.

But from these dreams of blissful freedom and delightful sin they were rudely aroused by the stern and puritanic action of the Shah. On reaching Moscow, instead of being lodged at a hotel, the chief eunuch carried them into the seclusion of the country, where not the slightest trace of young men was permitted to meet their gaze. In this state of things they appealed to the Shah, and begged to be taken first to a hotel and secondly to the opera. It is propable that they had so long entertained the thought of this exceeding wickedness, that they had lost all proper sense of the infamy of their conduct, and had convinced themselves that the Shah would place no obstacles in their downward path. Unfortunately for their scheme, that august personage was fully capable of perceiving the sinfulness of their request. As a Mussulman, a Persian and a husband, he was alike horrified and outraged at so conclusive an evidence of the demoralization of his harem. He bitterly bewailed his folly in bringing such weak creatures as women into the temptations of an European tour, and he determined to undo at once, so far as might be possible, the wrong that he had done, by prompt and vigorous action. Before morning he had parted from his guilty spouses, and they were on their sorrowful way back to Persia, escorted by grinning and triumphant eunuchs.

Never again, O beautiful Bulbul, and plump Aerooz, and dreamy-eyed Khanaboody! Never again to gaze from balconies on European young men, or to watch unveiled at infidel theatres for the wink of the wicked dragoon, or to wear the defiling but delicious bonnets, and the low but lovely corsage of the feminine Giaour. Your dream of European bliss is ended, and henceforth behind Persian walls your weary days will pass in dull monotony, varied only by the sneers of brutal eunuchs, and the occasional throwing of revengeful hair brushes at their thick and resounding skulls.

☞ A milk pitcher thrown by his wife at a Nelson street man, on Monday noon, missed the aim and ruined a handsome frame which enclosed the words "God Bless our Home."

DR. TUTTS VEGETABLE LIVER PILLS. The startling drawback on nearly all medicinal agents has ever been that in their process of purgation and purification they have also debilitated the system. To obviate this difficulty physicians have long sought for the agent that would PURGE, PURIFY AND STRENGTHEN At one and the same time. Their research has at last been rewarded by a discovery which full realizes the fondest desires of the medical faculty, and which is justly regarded as the most important triumph that Pharmacy has ever achieved. The important desideratum is Dr. Tutt's Vegetable Liver Pill. Which purify the blood and remove all corrupt humors and unhealthy accumulations from the body, and yet produces no weakness or lassitude whatever, but on the contrary tones the stomach, and invigorates the body during the progress of their operation. They unite the heretofore irreconcilable qualities of a STRENGTHENING PUGATIVE and PURIFYING TONIC. Dr. Tutt's Pills are the most active and searching medicine in existence. They at once attack the very root of diseases, and their action is so prompt that in an hour or two after they are taken the patient is aware of their good effects. They may be taken at any time without restraint of diet or occupation; they produce neither nausea, griping or debility, and as a family medicine they have no rival. Price 25 cents a box. Sold by all Druggists. Principal office, 18 and 20 Platt St., New York.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN JURUBEBA BLOOD PURIFIER Is the Most Powerful Cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica. It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, etc., etc. When weary and languid from overwork, and dullness, drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power. In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement. DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURRUBEBA is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs. It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants. JOHN Q. KELLOGG, 18 Platt-st., New York. Sole Agent for the United States. Price One Dollar per Bottle. Send for Circular.

Dr. Calhoun's Liver Pills. I AM engaged in the Manufacture of the Celebrated Family Medicine, known as the Calhoun Liver and Anti-Bilious Pills, under the supervision and assistance of Dr. Calhoun himself. This Pill has been in use for the last thirty-five years, and has taken precedence over all other Family Preparations, by all that have used them. Thousands would certify to their great value if necessary. One fact should supersede any amount of certificates, and that fact is this: Dr. Calhoun has been physician to the Fulton County Prison for over seven years, when the number of prisoners ranged from 20 to 70, laboring under all the diseases incident to this climate. With but few exceptions, they have all been treated with this Pill, and astonishing to say, during that long period, not a solitary death occurred under his treatment. This fact is worth any amount of testimonials. I am now prepared to fill orders from Druggists, Merchants and others. All orders sent me shall receive prompt attention. There is no type of FEVER, DYSPEPSIA, DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, RHEUMATISM, or other disease of a Southern climate, but yields readily to this preparation. Price, 50 cents a Box.
